Praise Roosevelt In the North Sea—Crabs Stopping Is Dangerous Only One Race Some Day

Some who said government should not "meddle with industry or private business" may change their minds. President Roosevelt has signed the textile code.

That does away with child labor in the textile industry, something that philanthropy and good intention have been trying to do for a generation, vainly.

Child labor was profitable. Fathers and mothers supplied the finished products to the employers, without charge, as though an automobile factory had supplied them with trucks and passenger cars free. And with trucks and passenger cars, employers must pay for repairs. Not so with child workers. When they are laid up they go home, others take their places, the fathers and mothers attend to the repairs, without cost to the employer.

Thanks to President Roosevelt's belief that government has power and should use it, tens of thousands of children will have a better chance in life.

When you say "crab-meat cocktail" you may be ordering a possible cause of war between Japan and Russia.

Huge crabs live in the cold waters that bathe the northern Russian coast and Japanese go there to catch and ship them in quantities to the United States. Russian soldiers killed three Japanese fishermen because they landed on Russian soil without permission.

Japan sent a warship to see about that, and trouble may come in spite of the fact that Russia has formally apologized for killing the Japanese, and Japan has apologized for an attack made by a Japanese on Russia's commercial agent in Tokyo.

A war about North Sea crabs would sound like a Gilbert and Sullivan opera, but war has come from smaller things.

Unless certain that you have provided for everything, old age is a cruel thing. It is very hard to be sure, and dangerous to stop. In New York, Dr. R. M. Wolf thought he had enough, retired, failed at the age of 50 that he must work again, and tried to rebuild his abandoned practice. The attempt failed and a friend found Doctor Wolf and his little dog both dead. One doctor says the dog would not make a living and gave it a lethal dose before taking the poison himself.

The moral is, keep on working. Idleness is dull and it is dangerous, since the bottom can drop out of anything.

In Spokane an American Legion prize for the best essay on national defense was won by William Lee, 15-year-old Chinese-American boy. That is an interesting answer to the question, "What is the result of intermarriage between Chinese and Westerners?"

Eventually, when we stop war and general hatreds, the human race must become all one, one language, one set of laws, thoughts, beliefs, and even one government.

There were twenty-two separate kingdoms in England when William the Conqueror landed there. Now one is enough.

There is time enough ahead of us for everything.

Always remember, if discouraged, that scientists say the sun will light and heat the earth for at least one million million years more, namely, one thousand billion years. How might even get tired of fighting and cheating each other in that time.

"Aunt Martha" Mayne, last full blooded survivor of Long Island's Powassuck tribe of Indians, is dead at 85, on Long Island's little Indian reservation. She died a good Methodist, having long since abandoned the Indians' "Great Spirit" and happy hunting grounds. She had two husbands, white, and seven children. Only one survives. Her death means another tribe of human beings gone from the earth forever.

It also makes real estate men positive: When Aunt Martha was young they could have bought Long Island for a few thousand dollars. To buy it now you would need billions.

Our neighbor, Portugal, facing us across the Atlantic, reports excellent financial conditions. Portugal is "in the black." Her prosperous colonies, Cape Verde, Portuguese Guinea, Mozambique and Goa, also have their bills paid with surprise to show.

One-half of the countries do not know how the other half live. Only Sam will be surprised to hear that the total cost of running Portugal, everything included, is $25,000,000.

That, according to Senator Copeland, is less than one-tenth of what this country pays its racketeers annually.

NUMBER 25

Fine Art Exhibit At Denny-Watrous

A well-judged show is the verdict of the majority of those who have seen the exhibition of the Carmel artists which is being shown at the Denny-Watrous gallery.

The judges were Miss Charlton Fortune, Armin Hansen and Stanley Wood. Pictures hung are: Cool Carmel, by Free Dean, a flower picture by Gene Frances, better known to her friends as Gene McComas, Carmel Valley by James Fitzgerald, a scene by Paul Whitman, Yosemite Valley by Ferdinand Burgdorff, Springtime in Italy by Catherine Seidenack, Sonnet by Alice R. Comins, San Remo Coast by George Kotch.

Through the Sands to the Sea by Josephine Culbertson, The Ranch Houses by Josephine Blanch, Canova and Eleventh by Charlotte E. Morgan, Bomekop Church by Abbie Bosworth, Carmel Valley by Homer Levinson, Flowers by Stanley Wood, Northwester by Armon Hansen, Near Monterey by Emma Kraft, Moonlight in Carmel Highlands by Charlton E. Fortune.

Rock Shore at Low Tide by Paul Dougherty, Crossing the Bar by William Ritschel, Mescal Hills by John O'Shea, St. Ives Fisherman by George Seidenack, Shadow by Burton S. Boundey, Poppy Time by K. Airini Vane, Deserted Orchard by Julian Greenwell, Copper and Fruit by Alvin G. Beller, Summer Afternoon by Richard Taggart, The Deserted Farm by M. DeNeale Morgan and Entrance to the Forbidden City by William C. Watts.

HEATHERS AT HOME

FINISHED PRODUCTION

Perhaps we Carmel enthusiasts are unconsciously jealous of the talents of "outsiders"—for there must be some reason for the strange lack of favor which the Carmel Players found in Carmel, but if we are going to be perfectly fair, we must admit that this group had that professional touch which is so lacking in amateurs.

"The Heather at Home", a play which pokes a little fun at our great American Middle Class, was disliked so heartily by some members of the audience, that one might be excused for believing that in it they found some personal application—making their resentment understandable, and accounting for their unceremonious departure at the close of the second act.

Mr. Kuster, who brought the Cornish Players to the Community Playhouse, is deserving of great praise for his unselfish efforts in trying to give Carmel something fine in popular drama, though a lack of appreciation was painfully noticeable in the small attendance.

It is quite evident that there are those in Carmel who have the quaint notion that culture is a rabid form of intolerance to be publicly manifest. Fortunately, the reverse is true, but one must not lose sight of the fact that this same intolerance may lose for Carmel some very fine things, as producers cannot indefinitely present plays at a personal loss.

ORDINANCE SAYS CATS

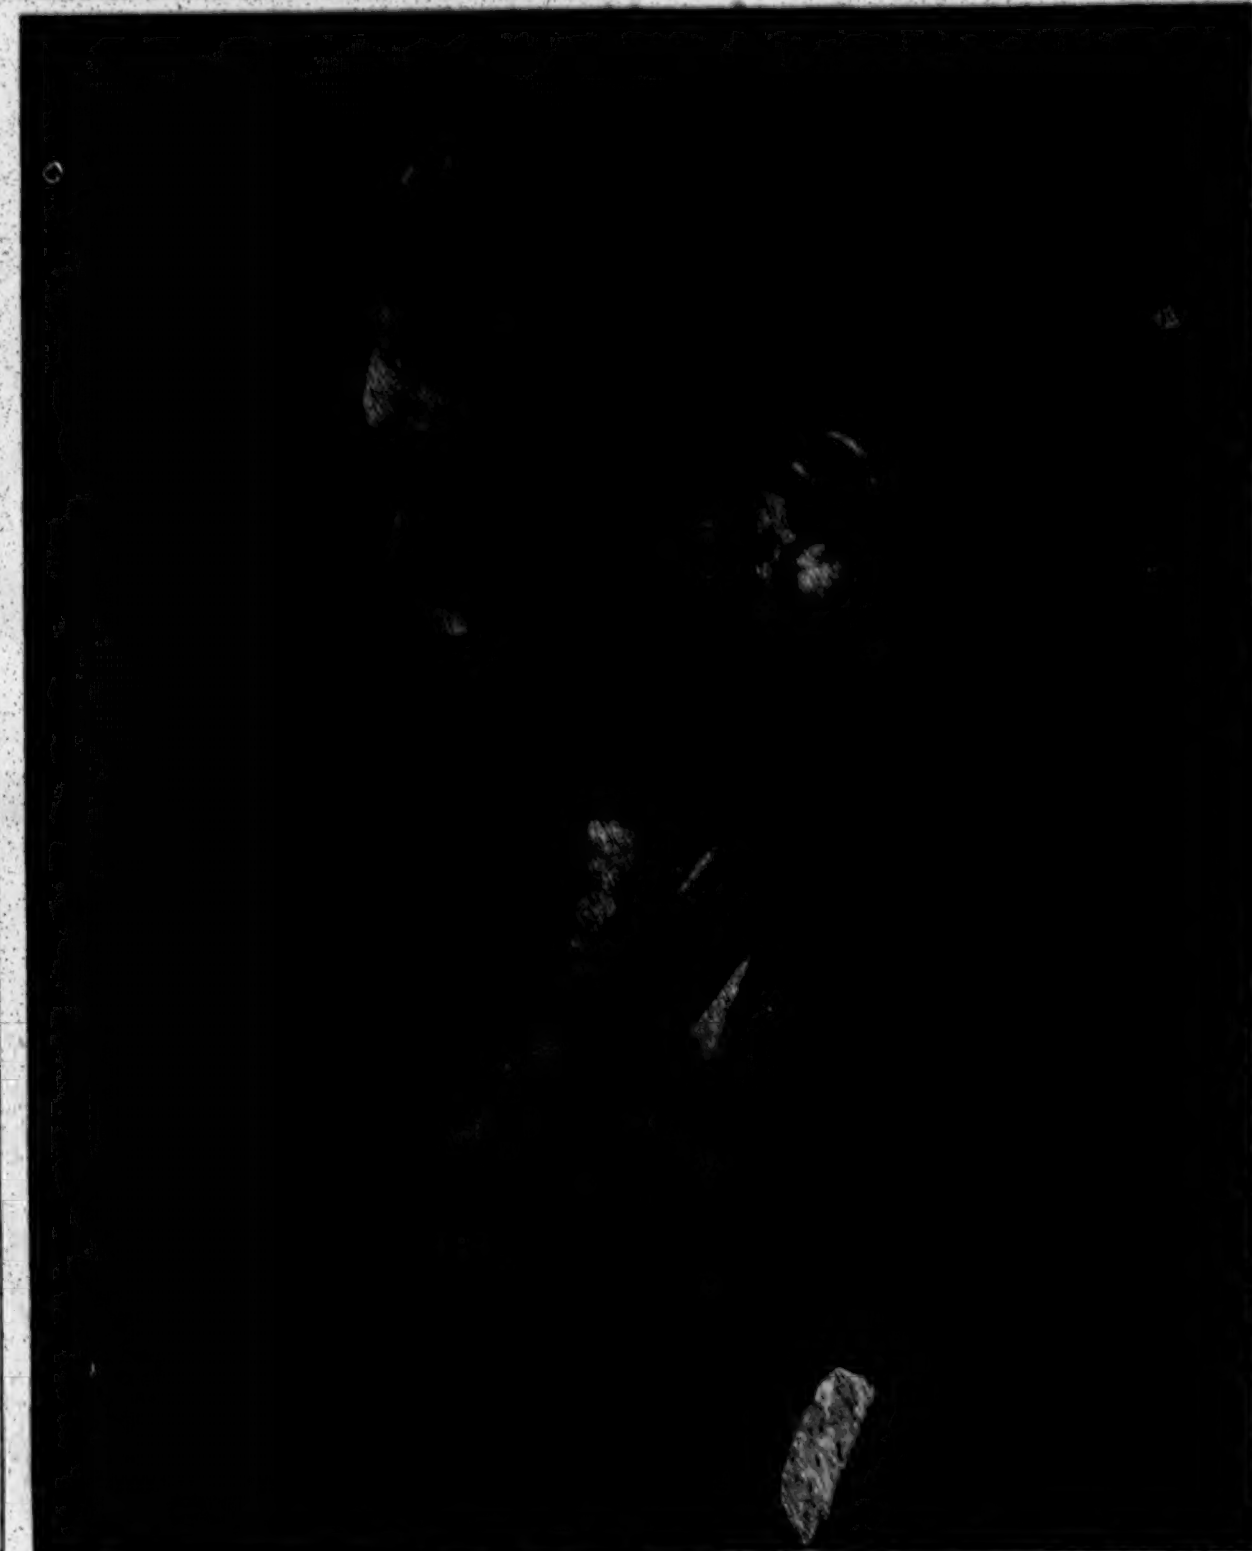

MUST BE LICENSED

Have you paid the city license on your cat? Not? Probably no one else has ever done so either, but the other day when Judge Wood was going over the old minutes of the city council, he found that away back in 1916, in the very beginning of the incorporated city, the city fathers decided that cats, as well as dogs, should be licensed.

They ran against a snag, however, for Pussycat absolutely refused to wear a license tag on her neck, and it would have kept more than one man busy chasing around to find out about them, the increases in their families, etc., and besides, no one would claim ownership of a cat when called on for the money.

The law is still there, but Puss and old Tom still roam without taxation.

A fine boy has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles May of the Mission Cleaners, and has been given the name of Charles, Junior.

Michel Penha, Famous Conductor of Monterey Peninsula Orchestra

When the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra played its debut concert last summer, the audience was delighted and astounded with what it heard. For the year of its existence now, young and old have followed the open orchestra rehearsals conducted by the dynamic, commanding baton of the tireless, indefatigable Penha, during the five months of his contract with the Carmel Music Society, and during the interim by the equally patient and excellent leadership of Carol Weston.

What it has meant to Carmel and the Peninsula for the Music Society to keep Michel Penha here as director of the Orchestra few realize. But Tuesday night's concert will show. The program features two soloists, Winifred Howe, pianist, playing the Bach D minor concerto with the orchestra, and little eleven-year-old Miriam Solovoff, playing the Vieuxtemps concerto for violin and full orchestra.

WORSHIP SERVICE AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

On Sunday morning next at 11 o'clock a devotional service of considerable interest will be held at the Carmel Community Church. Subject of sermon will be: "The Greatest Sentence in the New Testament." Visitors to and residents of Carmel are cordially invited to participate in the above services.

MRS. OLAF EDQUIST

HAS PASSED AWAY

After an illness from heart trouble for three months during which time she was bedfast, Mrs. Olaf Edquist, 47, passed away Friday about five o'clock at a local hospital. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Paul mortuary, conducted by Ida Mayfield Wilson.

The deceased came to Carmel with her family about seven years ago from Johnstown, Colo., and had many friends here who will mourn her passing. Surviving here are her widower, two children, Mrs. Floyd Harper and Nels Edquist and three grandchildren of Carmel.

The Edquists live at Dolores and Eleventh. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

Miss Victoria Ingram flew down from San Francisco Sunday and spent the day with her sister, Mrs. G. W. McFarland.

Miriam is the daughter of a Hebrew scholar in San Francisco, and shows all the heritage of the child of that gifted race. According to Raymond Dannenbaum, "there lives in Miriam the complete experience of the Jew." When she plays Nigun you see in her eyes, in the tortured corners of her mouth, the accompaniment of the vision of the music describing a phase of two thousand years of exodus and suffering.

But Miriam is not a sad child—only when the music is sad. Right now, when she is not skipping across the gulch for her lessons with Kathleen Parlow, or practicing her three hours a day on the back porch of the little house the Solovoffs have taken on Lincoln street, she is wading on the beach with Carmel children, getting brown and rosy, with little thought of the brilliant concerto of next Tuesday night.

And when Miriam plays... we must wonder. By what miracle can a child play with such ease, such amazing facility of technique, such power and mastery!

Miriam gave her debut recital in 1931 at the Community Playhouse. In February she played as soloist with the San Francisco Children's Symphony, and this last April appeared with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, where she was given a tremendous ovation. The following week, she played the Paganini concerto for Bernard Molinari, and was invited to go to Rome to play with the famous symphony there by the delighted Italian conductor.

On Tuesday night the Sunset Auditorium should be packed to hear not only Winifred Howe and Miriam but our own Orchestra as well, keyed to a high pitch—but all in tune—ready for the great event. The younger members of the group are out selling tickets to fill the house, without which this thing we have with us now and which we have come to love so much cannot go on.

FIRE DESTROYS COUCH; RESIDENCE IS SAVED

Fire caused by a cigarette carelessly tossed, destroyed a couch in the home of Dr. Boone at 9:30 Saturday evening. The family had been away about two hours when the smoke was noticed and the fire department called.

Prompt work on the part of the crew saved the house, which is the property of Miss E. Gamble and is known as the Lichtenthaler place.

MRS. MARIE MCFARLAND

INSTALLS BEAUTY STUDIO

With new up-to-the-minute equipment and newly decorated quarters, Mrs. Marie McFarland has opened up a beauty studio above the Town and Country Shop.

Green and ivory is the color scheme of the decorations, with fittings of black glass for the contrast.

Mrs. McFarland is planning an innovation in that she will serve afternoon tea to her customers in the beautiful lounge which she has furnished so nicely for their enjoyment with easy chairs, radio, books and such.

Mrs. McFarland graduated in her trade eight years ago and has spent the past three years in Carmel, being recently associated with La Bonita shop. She has hosts of friends who wish her good luck in her new venture.

The Ivory Door Fine Production

"The Ivory Door" as a production of the Forest Theater has gone into history and has left a pleasant memory with all who were fortunate enough to be able to attend.

"It was better than the famous production seen in New York City," said one spectator. He thought the out-door setting might have been one of the things that made it more enjoyable.

However, when the lights were thrown onto the picturesque stage the audience felt a thrill and lost themselves in the story which was so admirably portrayed under the direction of Dorothy Foulger.

Perhaps some of the actors stood out in their parts above the others, but all were excellent and have received unstinted praise.

The story itself was a beautiful one, and those who failed to see The Ivory Door on this occasion will have another opportunity later on.

Those of the cast were: James Kemble Mills, Albert Van Houten, Hal Garrett, Irving Short, Ross Cowan, Eugene Watson, John David Tyrrell, Marion Todd, Louise Cowan, Eugenia Douglas, Frank Hefling, Yvonne Castle, Robert Edgren, Jr., Philip Walker, Markham Johnston, W. B. Williams, Joe Schoeninger, Ray Hamilton, Tom Crosthwaite, Lloyd Ween, Marjorie Conover, Marie Delmas, Theresa Duranti, Sally Frye, Travis Bogard, Robert D. Conover, James Douglas, Ralph James, Ross Keister, Harvey Short and Reeve Conover.

HALLDIS STABELL WILL GIVE FREE LECTURE

In the lecture which Miss Stabell will give to the general public at the Denny-Watrous gallery Saturday evening, she will explain the theories and methods by which she has developed bodies which were not only ugly, but sickly into beautiful specimens of health and poise.

A Norwegian by birth, Haldis Stabell was graduated in 1910 as a director of gymnastics from Teilmann's Institute in Copenhagen. She has studied in Berlin and at Dornach, Switzerland, under the tutelage of the foremost European physiological instructors. After ten years of teaching, Miss Stabell established her own institute in Oslo and Stockholm.

With a Grecian ideal of beauty, Miss Stabell teaches her pupils control of the body through a mental comprehension of physical perfection, a comprehension which at all times is present in the sub-conscious mind, while the body is at work and at play.

Her pupils are taught that control of the figure starts first with the inner muscles, the expansion and relaxing of which usually cause the ugly bulges and sagging associated with a maturing figure.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, July 16, in all Churches of Christ Scientist branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "This is life eternal that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17:3). Other Bible citations will include: "And this is the record, that God hath given us eternal life, and this life is in his son" (1 John 5:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "He who has the true idea of good loses all sense of evil and by reason of this is being ushered into the undying realities of Spirit. Such a one abideth in Life—life obtained not of the body incapable of supporting life, but of Truth, unfolding its own immortal idea. Jesus gave the true idea of being which results in infinite blessings to mortals." (p. 325.)

"UNIVERSAL CHRIST"

TOPIC AT MEETING

Rev. E. F. Hallenback, D. D. of San Anselmo Theological Seminary, will address the Carmel Missionary Society on Thursday, July 27, at 2:30 at the Presbyterian chapel. His topic will be the Universal Christ. The public is cordially invited.

Coast Zone Property Owners Organize

Violent opposition to the zoning plan proposed by the county planning commission was indicated by coast property owners, who are organizing for protection, and for the formulation of plans of their own.

Attorney John Thomson of the Monterey law firm of Thomson and Lenahan has been retained to represent the owners, who met at Pfeiffer's Big Sur resort last week.

No final action will be taken by the planning commission on July 31, according to Carmel Martin, chairman, who said he would welcome any proposal submitted by the property owners.

The problem before the planning commission is to preserve the beauty of the coast, and at the same time, without too much damage to the property owner, get a return for the public on the expense of the road.

The hearing will be open at 1:30 p.m. Monday afternoon, July 31 in the supervisor's chambers county courthouse, when it is hoped some amicable arrangement may be made between the commission and the property owner's association.

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY

QUARTET REHEARSAL

Quietly and with a feeling of deep pleasure, the intimate little group that attends the Penha Piano Quartet rehearsals, took their seats in the Denny-Watrous gallery Monday evening to hear the exquisite music of Beethoven and Dvorak.

The playing was finished and brilliant, with but few halts for direction. One felt that the four artists were thrilled with their music, and their listeners gained much more from their playing for the fact. The quartet has a freshness and vivacity often lacking in groups who have for a long time been associated together in the playing of the same type of music.

MIRIAM SOLOVEFF IN

ORCHESTRA REHEARSAL

Little Miriam Solovoff, working under difficulties, still had opportunity to demonstrate her very fine technique and understanding when she rehearsed her Vieuxtemps concerto at the open rehearsal of the Monterey Peninsula orchestra Sunday evening.

Heretofore, but one rehearsal has been necessary for Miriam, with things going very smoothly. The constant interruptions and repeatings Sunday were obviously upsetting, and her nervousness showed in a tenseness in her playing.

MAN PARKS SELF

ON OCEAN AVENUE

After imbibing too freely, John Doe felt sleepy and lay himself down in the midst of the shrubbery in the center of Ocean Avenue Sunday night, where he was subsequently picked up and escorted over to the jail in Monterey.

Monday morning, he appeared before Judge Wood, all sobered up and ready to go to work, and received a good lecture. He was not fined in that he had created no disturbance and had offered no resistance to the officers.

BLACK CONE FIRE IS

NOW UNDER CONTROL

Under control after two weeks of burning over 8,000 acres of brush and scrub oak, the fire which for a time threatened the Carmel river watershed is practically extinguished.

Over 600 men were put to work on the blaze, and it seemed for a time as if fire fighters would have to be conscripted in Carmel.

Rough country made difficult work of the fire fighting, though due to the fact that the dry season is not far advanced, the brush and trees were green enough to resist the blaze.

Crews were made up of members of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the task of getting food and clothing to the fighters was taken over by the army.

CALIFORNIA NEWS REVIEW

The State Cooperative Reporting Service forecast for California a larger production of wheat, corn and oats than last year. The estimated production of barley showed a big decrease. The service anticipates smaller crops of potatoes and sweet potatoes this year because of the decreased acreage.

In line with the state program of surfacing highways for heavy travel, contract was awarded recently to the Santa Maria Construction Company to surface nine miles of the San Simeon-Carmel highway with asphaltic road oil, between Molera's Beach and Rocky Creek, Monterey County. This project will cost $13,510.

A sharp decline in the number of "crimes without violence" such as burglary, forgery and embezzlement was reported for California for the first half of 1933. Burglaries reported to the State Bureau were 12,704 as against 14,292 for last year. Mollit reported. Robberies reported from 3,325 to 2,953. Fictitious check and forgery crimes fell from 2,905 to 1,825.

Lloyd W. Frick of Arvin, California, was elected president of the California Cotton Cooperative Association, Ltd., and the California Production Credit Corporation at the annual meeting held at the association's offices in Bakersfield. J. H. Hansen of Corcoran was elected vice-president. H. V. Eastman of Chowchilla treasurer and C. C. Selden of Bakersfield secretary and general manager.

W. T. Ferguson, superintendent of Sylvan Park, the large picnic park of Redlands, says that it takes sixteen miles of clean white paper to supply tablecloths for the picnic parties there every year. The city buys news print paper for the purpose. It comes in great rolls with about four miles of paper on each roll. Four rolls usually are needed during the picnic season and sometimes more.

More than $1,000,000 has been advanced to members of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association as the first payment on 1933 apricots. It was announced by General Manager C. D. Cavallaro in San Jose. This payment is greater than all three payments for last year's fruit, he declared. With the market steadily improving, the final settlements are expected to total twice the amount of 1932 payments.

J. G. McKay of Santa Barbara was installed as commander of the California Command, Canadian Veterans, in the closing sessions of their annual three-day convention at Santa Barbara recently. He succeeds S. H. Grant of Oakland. Oakland was selected as the 1934 convention city. Other officers are George Locke of Hollywood, first vice-commander; William O'Connor of San Jose, second vice-commander; R. Robertson, Inglewood, third vice-commander; Cluny McPherson, Los Angeles, parliamentarian, and Rev. Frank Woods, Long Beach, chaplain.

The California Rural Letter Carriers' Association brought its annual convention to a close at San Jose with election of officers and the selection of Marysville as the 1934 convention city. A. N. McHenry of Highland was elected president. Other officers chosen include T. J. McDonald, Holtville, vice president; F. J. Stevens, San Bernardino, secretary; and Charles Babcock, Richmond, treasurer. The ladies' auxiliary elected Mrs. Ethel Wetherbee of Goleta, as president; Mrs. Anita Sharp, Ontario, vice president; Mrs. Anna Irma Newman, Rivera, secretary; Mrs. Cora Fies, San Bernardino, treasurer, and Mrs. Bessie McHenry, Highland, historian.

Beer of the so-called "home-brew" type, when sold with 3.2 or less percentage of alcohol, is subject to State taxation, and all other beer of this character, with greater alcoholic content, will henceforth be reported to federal law enforcement authorities. The State Board of Equalization officials so announced. They said Attorney General U. S. Webb has unofficially informed them that all 3.2 beer, from regular breweries or elsewhere, is taxable. Legal advice on beer with an illegal "kick" in it was that the board inspectors cooperate with authorities of the government liquor squads. During the last two months 6,444,435 gallons of taxable beer has been distributed to thirty California plans.

Bathers at Avalon, Catalina Island, recently found $48 in five and ten-dollar bills floating in the ocean. It is believed the bills were dropped from somebody's yacht.

The United States Government recently petitioned the Railroad Commission for an order directing a reduction in water, gas and electricity rates at Monterey Presidio. The petition is directed against the Monterey County Water Works and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Intoxicated motorists were responsible for six of the twenty-one deaths in traffic accidents of the last six months in Oakland, George Lickteig, president of the East Bay Safety Council, revealed in a report on the half-year traffic analysis.

Warren Atherton, State commander of the American Legion, challenged to debate Professor Paul A. Schlipf, Methodist, on recent actions taken by the Southern California Methodist conference which Atherton criticized as "un-American." Professor Schlipf, who teaches philosophy at the College of the Pacific at Stockton, made a heated reply recently to Atherton's attack on the conference resolutions opposing military training in the schools, endorsing conscientious objectors and advocating abolition of the Los Angeles red squad.

Related recognition of valorous service during the world war recently found California's youngest sheriff in possession of one of the most cherished veterans' emblems—a medal of the Order of the Purple Heart. The recipient is Sheriff John R. Thornton, in his third term as sheriff of Solano county. The sheriff, as sergeant in the 1st Division, was wounded in action when he and two privates, William Hathaway and Aram Shahbazian, stalked a machine gun nest of two guns, killed two of the enemy and captured 17.

With legalized wine foreseen as a possibility within the next year, California is to have the smallest wine grape crop for any of the last five years, with one exception, according to the forecasts of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service just issued. The production is set at 367,000 tons by E. E. Kaufman, the chief of the service, compared with yields of 385,000 tons in 1932, 316,000 tons in 1931, 485,000 tons in 1930 and 417,000 tons in 1929. The raisin grape crop is forecast as 1,013,000 tons, compared with 1,231,000 tons last year. The table grape yield is expected to be 370,000 tons, or 47,000 tons under 1932.

Highest commendations for the manner in which he recruited, trained and distributed to forest camps 100,000 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps was received by Maj. Gen. Malin Craig, commander of Ninth Corps Area, from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, recently. Craig, it is said, was delegated with a heavier task than any other corps area commander involved in the conservation corps campaign. A total of 100,000 men were trained in the Ninth Corps Area, out of a total of 350,000 recruited throughout the nation. MacArthur wired: "I extend to you and all members of your command my sincere appreciation of this great accomplishment. It was well done."

For the first time since the depression slid down the western slope of the Rockies to the Pacific Coast, bank statistics in June indicated a higher level of general business than in the same month of the preceding year. This became known when the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank computed and made public the bank debit totals for twenty-seven representative cities in the seven Far-western States comprising the twelfth reserve district. The debits aggregated $1,907,629,000, which was a gain of 6.4 per cent over June, 1932, when debits totaled $1,891,857,000. The gain over May's aggregate turnover of money was about 7.5 per cent. The May debits for the twenty-seven cities were $1,745,201,000.

Contrary to earlier reports, the Orange Belt Highway, passing through Tulare county, will be included in some 6,700 miles of secondary roads to be taken over for maintenance by the State Highway Commission August 22. Report to this effect is made by J. G. Brown, chairman of the good roads committee of the Porterville Chamber of Commerce, from Fresno, where he was summoned for a conference with the commission divisional engineer. Brown attended a number of conferences of good roads promotional organizations in Los Angeles. He was accompanied to Fresno by C. B. Allumbaugh, county supervisor. Not only will the entire length of the Orange Belt Highway be included in the new secondary system but also the road from Porterville to Camp Nelson. Eventually the proposed trans-Sierra Lone Pine road, which will connect Lone Pine in Inyo county with Camp Nelson in Tulare county, will become a part of the State system.

The California Municipal Utilities Association, with more than 800 member utilities represented, voted at San Francisco to organize a determined campaign to prevent the State Legislature's taxing receipts of publicly owned utilities under the Riley-Stewart tax plan. The gathering also voted to recommend to the administrator of the National Industrial Recovery Act in Washington the appointment to administer allotment of funds in California of a man in sympathy with public ownership.

EVERY FIBER EVERY CORD EVERY PLY IS BLOWOUT PROTECTED BY GUARD LAMINATE

BLOWOUTS are caused by frictional heat generated in the fibers of the cotton cords in a tire. Firestone is the only tire built with every cotton fiber saturated and coated with pure rubber—to prevent destructive heat. This is one of the reasons why Firestone tires have been on the winning cars in the 500 mile Indianapolis Race for 14 consecutive years—the world's most severe blowout test.

Rubber has gone up 343%, cotton 115%—substantial tire price increases must follow. We will give you an attractive allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires.

WRITE STORIES THAT WILL SELL

Bruce Fox, whose students have sold to Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Vogue, Liberty and who sells his own work regularly, is conducting a group every Monday at 1:30 in the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

There is still time to join us

Peninsula News

According to a statement made by Fred Turner, who with M. C. Hall of the Mission Trails association recently visited this vicinity, the months of July and August will show substantial increase in tourist travel in this section of the state.

Although the tax rate will be higher for the coming fiscal year in Pacific Grove, the individual tax bill will remain about the same, as property assessments have been cut 10 to 20 per cent. It is expected that the new tax rate will be about $1.40 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

According to announcement made last week, $85,000 of the $26,735,500 allotted in the Industrial Recovery act for five western states has been set aside for a new post office in Pacific Grove. The lease on the present post office property has another two years to run, and it is believed that construction of the new building will be postponed until the lease has expired.

Funeral services were held last week for Harvey McMenamin, 23 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McMenamin of Monterey, who died in a local hospital from injuries received when he fell. The entire Peninsula mourns the young man, who had many friends here. He is survived by a 10 year old sister, Beverly, as well as by his parents.

Petitions signed by over 300 Pacific Grove residents will be presented at the council meeting tonight, it is understood, when a concerted effort will be made to force the council to recognize the popular demand for legal beer.

Anthony Brazil, Grove attorney, has been retained by a group of merchants, and the petitions call for an election on a proposed ordinance after that of Carmel.

Three prominent Monterey residents were injured last week, when they met with an automobile accident in South San Francisco. They were Mrs. Tracy Miller of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, Theodora and Nancy Gross of Monterey.

The three, who were taken to the Mount Zion hospital in San Francisco, have been pronounced out of danger.

Mrs. Leonard D. Slosson, president of the California Garden Club federation, and Miss Charlotte Hoak, editor of "Golden Gardens," were in Monterey last week making arrangements for the state federation convention, which is to be held in Del Monte in the middle of October.

Between 100 and 200 people are expected to attend the convention which will be the second held by the federation, which was formed two years ago.

Among the activities in the 1800 acre Tobin tract on the east side of the Carmel-Monterey highway, is the Tevis-Morgan project known as the Rancho-Aguajito Riding stables. A miniature polo field is being cleared off, and jumps erected. There are to be a barbecue pit, and a swimming pool.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathews have purchased several acres in the tract, and M. J. Murphy is constructing a New England type house for them.

MUSINGS

BY E. L. T.

Let's hope the new deal will not prove to be a raw deal.

Does the "Brain Trust" violate the Sherman anti-trust law?

Can this country squander itself into prosperity?

The stein song is more popular than the Star Spangled Banner.

Uncle Sam has lost almost 30 per cent of his shirt in the London pow wow. He may save the rest by sewing it on and sleeping in it.

BLACK CONE FIRE IS NOW UNDER CONTROL

Under control after two weeks of burning over 8,000 acres of brush and scrub oak, the fire which for a time threatened the Carmel river watershed is practically extinguished.

Over 600 men were put to work on the blaze, and it seemed for a time as if fire fighters would have to be conscripted in Carmel.

Rough country made difficult work of the fire fighting, though due to the fact that the dry season is not far advanced, the brush and trees were green enough to resist the blaze.

Crews were made up of members of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the task of getting food and clothing to the fighters was taken over by the army.

W. L. OVERSTREET RECEIVES
MANY CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations by the score are being received by W. L. Overstreet, popular Carmel postmaster. It appears that in accordance with President Roosevelt's recent executive orders, all commissioned first, second and third class postmasters are to be placed under civil service, which means that Overstreet will be retained in the office which he has so efficiently filled.

However, Congress will have something to say about this at its next session in January.

Mrs. Powell Crichton and two children of New York City are spending the summer here in Carmel. Mrs. Crichton spent the winter in Coronado and stayed at the Pine Inn upon her return here but has now taken a house for the remainder of the summer.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riggins of Fresno are spending the summer in Carmel.

The orchestra is being whipped into beautiful shape by Penha, who is deserving of unstinted praise for his fine direction.

Miss Mary Wheldon plans to leave on her vacation August 12, sailing on the Malolo for Honolulu. She will be away for two weeks.

Bruce Fox made his regular trip to Carmel Monday to teach his short story class at Denny-Watrous gallery. Mr. Fox's class increases in size each week.

Mrs. James Short is spending this week in the Hal Garrott cottage on the Point. She had as house guests over the week-end Knight Jordan, Mrs. Ruth Orton, Gallatin Powers, Mrs. Madeline Powers Ulman and George McNear, all of San Francisco.

Mrs. Gertrude Douglas and her daughter Miss Eugenie Douglas, with Mrs. Douglas's sister Madame Orlovna, returned to San Francisco Sunday. They have been occupying the Short studio on Carmelo. Miss Douglas played the part of the princess in "The Ivory Door."

Charles Guth, popular traffic officer, who was injured some time ago when he crashed into a car with his motorcycle, while chasing a speeder up the hill, is improving, though still not able to walk on his right foot in which the ligaments were so badly strained. He hopes to be able to be around soon, however, by the aid of crutches.

The William E. Blauers of San Jose are occupying their cottage on Monte Verde for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel S. Chapman, former residents of Carmel, are in Yellowstone Park, and plan to leave from there for the Century of Progress fair in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McCreery entertained as their house guests this week Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Clifford of Burlingame.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Leidig and daughter, Jean, returned home Sunday from a few days spent at their cabin on Culp's ranch. They report a temperature of 102 in the shade.

Mrs. Emil Gundelfinger and her two daughters of Fresno motored to Carmel last week-end. Mrs. Gundelfinger returned Sunday leaving her daughters here for a vacation.

MANY CARMEL FOLK

AMONG HOTEL GUESTS

The Bali Room at Hotel Del Monte was indeed a lively scene last night when over four hundred merrymakers turned out to hear Gus Arnheim and his Hotel St. Francis dance orchestra play for a special engagement.

A large number of dinner and dancing parties were given. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lacy were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hughes and Mrs. Howard Cozens. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Myers entertained Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Nutting, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westphal, Mrs. Margaret Austin, Mr. John Breschini, Mr. Herbert Law and Mr. Chester Chesholm, all of Salinas. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Callender were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tynan.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Slipner had at their table Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buck and Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Morton. Another group included the Misses Charlotte Doud, Miss Kathleen Doud, Miss Eleanor Gardner, Mr. Roy Gardner and Mrs. Dick Worthington. With Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dorso were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley, Jr., and Mr. Wendell Nicolas. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiedemann entertained Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sturt, Mrs. Bessie Hall, Mrs. Lloyd Baker, Miss Mattie Baker, Miss Betty Hall and Mr. Clarke Tiedemann.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bredburn, Mr. and Mrs. George Chew, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Ingals were together, as were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wilson, Miss Jean Hall and Mr. Walter Ridener. In another group were the Misses Elyse Law and Frances Duncan and Messrs. Hartland Law and Frank Lynch.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Whitney had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goodeno, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Byrnes and Mrs. Marcia Gadam.

Others present included: Messrs and Mesdames Calvin M. Orr, John Thompson, Randal Cockburn, John Neikirk, Carl Bachelder, Jr., Mayo Thomas, William E. Kleinsorge, Sidney Shoenberg, Jack Beaumont, Carol Hutchinson, Talbert Josselyn, C. L. Berkey and Ben Franklin; Mrs. Edith Agatestein and the Misses Monica Ecklund, Dorothy Beaumont, Nadine Fox, Patty Johnson, Jane Weideman, Ruth and Edwina Pinkham, Nancy Thompson, Betty Joyce, Jane Hopper, Katherine Lial, Moira Wallace, Rosalie Murphy, Daisy Bostick and Patty Mora; Messrs Winsor Josselyn, Jo Mora, Jr., Arne Halle, Kenneth Wood, Bob Beaumont, Clifton Farris, John Von Saltsa, Ted Watson, Dick Collins, Bud Mills, Stuart Marble, John Campbell, Robert Edgren, John Mather, Arne Anderson, Charles Watson, Frank Work, Tom Work, Dr. Russell Roach, Major E. C. Conant, Jack Jordan, Fred Godwin, Dr. Hugh Dormody, Charles Pauser, John, Robert and Sidney Schoenberg, Jr., Francis Stevens, Enrico Bravo, Dan Searle and Donald Pearson.

Weekly News Notes From Carmel Valley

James A. Martin, his wife and son Jimmie, have returned from a trip to the Chicago Fair. Mr. Martin expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the Fair. It was all and more than expected. The weather was far from pleasant, thunder storms prevailed. When they were at Needles, Arizona the thermometer registered 106 in the shade at six o'clock A. M. Who said anything disagreeable about Carmel fogs?

C. B. Shaw, who has been looking after things during Mr. Martin's absence has leased the land under the orchard trees on the Martin ranch and is raising and planting an extensive truck garden. Corn, beans and squashes of different varieties are now thriving and soon will start the planting of late peas. These peas will be ready for market for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Cauliflower will also be planted soon. An interesting fact was made known during our visit to this ranch, interesting at least to the writer. Most crops have to be rotated as they take too much from the soil to plant them often in the same spot. That much we know but neither peas nor beans do this. Peas enrich the soil by adding nitrogen to the soil but beans neither add to the soil nor do they take anything from it. They are sort of negative personalities in other words. Oh well, who would eat beans when they could have peas?

The Pinkham family, consisting of father Ed Pinkham and his four daughters at present, as Mrs. Pinkham is on an extended visit in the east to their old home, are living at the Allan Griffin home in Los Ranchitos. They were at the Bathen home in Carmel for a little over a year. Certainly they have made a lovely choice in taking over the Griffin home. Welcome to Carmel Valley. They are additions wherever they go.

Mrs. Gibbons of Carmel has rented her home there and is now staying the summer at Robles del Rio.

Mrs. Jasmine Rockwell with her daughter Virginia and son John have rented their home in Carmel and are occupying Mrs. Heron's home in the Valley.

Mrs. R. C. DeYoe has had for house guests Mrs. Yost. Mrs. Yost is a lecturer at the University of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Rose DeYoe was quite seriously ill for a day, quite alarming her family and friends. However she made a quick recovery and is now as energetic as ever.

Arthur Wolter accompanied by his friend Fred Salaya spent Monday in Carmel visiting at the home of Mr. Wolter's sister Mrs. James Weaver Kitchen. Since his residence in the Cachagua District Mr. Wolter's health has greatly improved. He was at one time superintendent of Carmel streets.

Forest fires have been raging for almost two weeks between Tassajara Hot Springs and Robles del Rio. The fire fighting forces are constantly being augmented. A good force of U. S. soldiers are now on the job.

There was quite a blaze on the Los Ranchitos tract last Sunday. However all the neighbors responded generously with their services and it was under control before any serious damage was done.

If you happen to be a visitor at the home of Mrs. Stella Mather in Robles del Rio on a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon and you hear a succession of muffled thumps or a series of queer thumps or if a vision in blue just matching the color of her eyes, appears suddenly before, be not surprised. Just sit like a perfect lady and know that the vision, as well as the thumps and bumps are the former Mrs. Peggy Mather Fitzgerald and directly traceable to that demure young lady. She is giving dancing lessons on the days mentioned following the Eurythmics school of dancing as well as the German style. Her pupils are both adults and children.

Over a year ago, Ariel Scarlett found a tiny fawn shot thru the ear and brought her home. She is now the tamest little doe and stands perfectly fearless, her large bright eyes watching one's approach. She is as tame as Mary's little lamb and will follow the family about. However as yet she has not done as that famous quadruped did, she has followed none of them to school.

Mrs. Louis Wolter and her son Russell Tracy have returned home from the recent stork's visit at the Bay View hospital. Mrs. Wolter is feeling fine and Mr. Wolter Jr., has not as yet expressed himself except to show displeasure when kept waiting for his food.

Fred Forsythe had a rather serious accident when the hay press was climbing the hill to the mesa where hay was waiting. Usually horsepower is used in hill climbing but it was thought that a tractor would be quicker as well as better for the horses. When Mr. Forsythe started to uncouple the tractor it became unmanageable and the first thing any one knew, he was under its wheels. The bone in one leg was broken and both legs severely bruised and mangled. He is now at the Carmel Hospital where he is doing quite well. At one time it was feared that he might lose both legs as there was danger of gangrene. However that was averted but it will be over a month before he will be up and around.

Miss Nora Thompson returned to her home in Santa Cruz after a visit with her nephew Gates Thompson, on the Fertig "Rancho Del Monte."

Fruit stands are blossoming along the Valley road. Cherries and peaches are being picked. The elderberry and buckthorn blossoms are about gone and Queen Anne's lace faded and torn is a beautiful sight to see when the wind ruffles the trees along the river bottom and the silver side of the aspen leaves glitter in the midst of the many shades of green of the other trees. This has

Among the many parties given at the Hotel Del Monte, Monday night was that of Fred Godwin. His guests were Elizabeth Houghton, Eleanor Watson, Sue Brownell, Mary Campbell, Frank Howe, Bill Giese, Pierre Gharini, Michael Dimos, James Kepling also entertained Nancy Gross, Janet Martin and George Beckley. Those seen dancing to the music of Gus Arnheim's orchestra were Pat Burke, Nancy and Jean Thompson, Betty Joyce, Jean Leidig, Jane Hopper, Barbara Gresham, Cyr Barrick, Connie Elston, Kay Murphy, Ted Watson, John Von Saltsa, Ray Draper, John Mather, Jerry Wooliver, Jack Jordan, Cliff Farris, Dick Burrows, Paul Foster and Jim Van Loben Sels.

Sue Brownell gave a tea Friday afternoon for Pat Burke of San Francisco. Among the guests were Betty Racomi, Nan Peters, Elizabeth Houghton and Eleanor Watson.

Nancy Peters returned last week-end to her home in Palo Alto. She has been visiting Betty Racomi at their cottage on Mountain View.

The R. O. T. C. gave a sport dance Friday night at the Hotel Del Monte. Those seen were Connie Elston, Betty Racomi, Nan Peters, Jane Hopper, Charlotte Parker, Nancy Cooke, Charlotte Hohnemann, Vera Hunter, Audrey Clay, Eleanor Watson, Sue Brownell, Elizabeth Houghton, Joan Tait, Ruby Fraley, Doreen Martin and Bubbles Hampton.

been lupin year, never wre they more beautiful or more plentiful. Even this late in the season an occasional bush of lupin in full bloom is seen. The wild goddess, some Indian paint brush and the scarlet of poison oak is about all the color now. CARMEL VALLEY TAVERN TO OPEN UNDER NEW NAME

The Last Rustler's Inn, formerly known as Carmel Valley Tavern is about ready to open its hospitable doors. A moonlight dance is scheduled for next Saturday night.

Upon its walls is slowly collecting some souvenirs of early California days. There is a deputy sheriff's badge and pistol that were at one time the property of Under sheriff Murphy of Santa Clara County. The pistol is a relic as it dates back a long time ago.

Also there is a pair of spurs and a bridle and an old fashioned coffee mill belonging to—who knows. The story that is told is that it was taken from a famous, perhaps we had better say well known instead of famous outlaw, badman, road agent, what have you. At any rate he is supposed to have infested the hills of Carmel Valley and was killed when captured by the sheriff and posse of Carmel valley.

The donor of these articles would not give the name of this man, he has too many relatives living hereabouts. The articles mentioned were all of the effects that came to his stepson at his death. Now who can and will come forward and tell us who our mystery man is. Could it be the famous Vasquez?

Another intriguing relic is a trunk covered with cowhide. It is supposed to have come in a covered wagon and is in a wonderful state of repair. The maker's label is on the lid showing it to have originally come from Boston. Can one picture a greater contrast than that "land of the bean and the cod" and the early days of California. The trunk is now being used to house a radio.
